

ADOPT a CRITTER at the MooseWood Nature Center

Symbolically adopting an animal at the MooseWood Nature Center is a great way to show a concern and commitment for animals on exhibit and those who star in educational programs. Did you know that it annually costs $130 to feed one of our corn snakes?

As a critter friend, you can help provide

- Habitat enrichment
- Food and medical care
- Inspiring our visitors and community through educational programs

We welcome clubs, organizations, school classrooms, scout troops and families. Anyone can participate!

Adoption packages make unique gifts for birthdays, holidays or other special events.

Review the adoptees listed inside, then fill out the form and mail to MooseWood Nature Center.

MooseWood Nature Center

From a grassroots beginning, MooseWood Nature Center has grown into a thriving organization which, in 1998, was granted 501(c)(3) non-profit status.

Staff and volunteers provide programs for all seasons including family field trips, nature craft activities, after-school activity programs and birthday parties. MooseWood also offers a selection of outdoor and environmental education programs tailored to the needs of schools and we can create custom nature programming for any group.

Uniquely located next to Presque Isle Park, MooseWood uses its many natural resources in developing and implementing its environmental education programs.
